

Food Fraud and Authenticity

A virtual conference from the RSPH

Thursday 25 May 2021, 10am–1pm

3CPD
CREDITS
AVAILABLE FOR ATTENDEES

Chaired by Professor Lisa Ackerley FRSPH Chartered Environmental Health Practitioner, Managing Director of Public Health Company Ltd, and Sterling Crew, Chair Food Authenticity Network, Co-Founders of Kitchen Conversation.

You will learn about:

Food fraud; the global menace

The Food Authenticity Network – what's new?

Food fraud in a digital market – Your chance to ask questions with an interactive panel session

Speaker:

Professor Chris Elliott, OBE, Professor of Food Safety and founder of the Institute for Global Food Security, Queen's University Belfast

Selvarani Elahi, Deputy Government Chemist

Steve Smith, Head of Outreach National Food Crime Unit Food Standards Agency

Food fraud is a crime that is big business, and the final consumer is only one of the victims. This murky and complex area will be discussed by our speakers and you will have your chance to ask them questions during the panel session

Our distinguished speakers will unravel the mysteries of food crime and food authenticity, answering questions about:

- What is food fraud?
- What are the signs?
- What is food authenticity and how do scientists determine food authenticity?
- What does the future hold for food fraud?
- How can we detect fraud?
- What do government agencies do to protect consumers?
- What can we do to protect ourselves as consumers or business owners from food fraud in the supply chain?
- Is COVID or Brexit important?

Fees (no VAT payable)

- RSPH members: £35 (early bird £25)
- Public sector and charities: £45 (early bird £35)
- Private sector: £55 (early bird £45)

Early bird rates available until 5 March 2021

To register your interest and take advantage of early bird rates please email Meghan Cordery, MCordery@rsph.org.uk